We place the name of Joshus B. Parks at the head of our columns as the regular nominee of the Democratic party of Jefferson county for Representative. Mr. Parks is known to be a good citizen, a sound Democrat and a capable and amiable man. His services and his character alike commend him to the confidence of the people. mend him to the confidence of the people. As the nominee of his party we expect him to secure the full measure of its suf-

Description.

The Union graves at Arlington, the residence of Gen. Lee near Washing were, as the public have been instead with flowers on Saturday. It was said of us—and repeated after our repeated statement to the contrary—that we declined the use of our columns to those Democratis who opposed us. Such was not the fact. We gave our columns freely to every responsible correspondent. We excluded no one. We enabled our adversaries to reach the bulk of the community along side of ourselves, and, in spite of empty charges, we have yet to meet or hear of any one who could say, of his own knowledge, that the exclusions laid at our door had the least foundation in fact. They certainly had not. It was our design then, and is our design now—it is our interest always—to make the Couament.

The man who, in time of prosperity, deliberately ascrifices his party to his ambition will not sacrifice himself to his party in a time of need. This is an unerring rule. Let the people look to it and apply it to candidates. Democratic unity must be preserved. The purposes of the the Bishop of Georgis, Dr. John W. The memorial has been referred to the proper committee, and we presume will be reported upon at an early day. We hope that this subject will receive that consid and that our citizens generally will also consider it, believing as we do, that it is a matter in which Louisville as a city is very deeply interested. Our first efforts were very properly directed to the opening up of iron avenues to those portions of the South which were natural-ly tributary, to this city. But, as our Cin-cinnati neighbors are beginning to discover that there is a South as well as a North, so directed nearly all her energies to the The Boone Centennial.

The Boone Centennial has not been abandoned as has been announced and is erroneously supposed. The mistake we States, and making the country tributary is languishing. Assuredly it is ville instead of Frankfort. Assuredly it is opportunity is now presented for bringing not abandoned. Kentucky has a stake in it back to the cities around the Falls, of it back to the cities around the Falls, of which Louisville is the most important. No portion of the country has developed more rapidly than that through which this road will run, and to which this project, if there is a reasonable prospect of its success, will give a fresh impetus. It abounds in coal, timber, limestone, and salt-wells, and

The Union graves at Arlington, the old residence of Gen. Lee near Washington, were, as the public have been informed decorated with flowers on Saturday. The graves of both white and black soldiers, graves or both white and black soldiers, numbering many thousands, were adorned quite profusely. In the midst of or ad-joining these graves were those of some thirty Confederate soldiers, and upon these a few sympathizing ladies and children, relatives no doubt, placed flowers before the general ceremonies commenced, probably supposing that their tributes to their lamented dead might otherwise be interfered with.

Over these thirty Confederate graves the Over these thirty Confederate graves the authorities of the Government on Saturday piaced a guard of marines and an officer with instructions to allow no flowers to be laid upon them, while such ladies and children as had already placed flowers there were compelled to remove them. This was something more than human malignity and hate, it was absolutely devilish. Nay, we do not know that it was not even worse than devilish, for neither in ascred nor in protane history do we read of any deed of the devil that seems a parallel to it. To our minds, there is scarcely allel to it. To our minds, there is scarcely an appreciable difference between persons who would do what the Federal officers did and those who would defile or tear open the Confederate graves and scatter their mouldering ashes with yells and curses upon the winds. And these things are done directly under the eyes of the highest civil and military authorities of the nation, and, if not by their instructions, certainly by their conallel to it. Chapita.

Mr. Chapita, the winner of the Derby and the new Tory star in the House of Commons, is one of the richest men in England and an intimate friend of Tennyson, having been born in the same county and known the Tennyson family from his childhood. The brillhart woman who jitted him in order to become the wife of the Marquis of Hastings is at present a widow in somewhat reduced circumstances, and if Chapita is still willing she may be perhaps won more easily than the Derby in 1897. Rumor says, however, that he cannot endure the aight of her. Once he was wax in her little hands, but now he is adamant. So much for female duplicity. Boots, Shoes, Brogans, and Soft Hats. Punch's Munificence.

Mr. Punch seems more like the Mr. Punch of elder day, when he begins to substitute good nature and good humor for the sneer and sareasm which so ill-become him, in treating of Brother Jonathan. He now announces: "Mr. Punch himself has paid Mr. Sumner's bill. The handwriting of the latter being indistinct, Mr. Punch is not quite sure whether he asks for two hundred and fifty millions or billions, and therefore has sent over the latter sum. If there is a balance, Mr. Sumner can keep it for himself, or lay it out in building a lunatic asylum into which, if the quarrel should really arise, the people of the United States will do well to insert every public man they have, from sober Sumner down to druak-Gallagher, O'Rava, and Cana acceptance of the Color of th od.
